

KnowYourSport

Sept Results (Part 2)

The Rebels of Cork won the All-Ireland Camogie final this past Sunday. 66 of the Scoil Mhuire Students, and this was the third most popular choice of the entire competition for the students. Most of the leaderboard selected the ladies from Cork, but there's still plenty of changes at the top.

Competition Update

There is a strange phenomenon in sports, called "The Commentator's Curse".

Any time the commentator mentions how well a player is doing, they will immediately kick the ball out of play, get a red card or do something else which is out of character with their abilities. Unbelievably, 3 of the Top 4 were the only students in the Top 12 not to pick Cork.

Many apologies to Aoibhinn McHale, James McGuinn and Callum Tierney, the only entrants on the leaderboard who drop places. Commentators curse!

And congrats to Nicky Faherty, leader with one week to go. Closely followed by Rose Denton and Sean Fitzsimons, but will the commentators curse strike again?

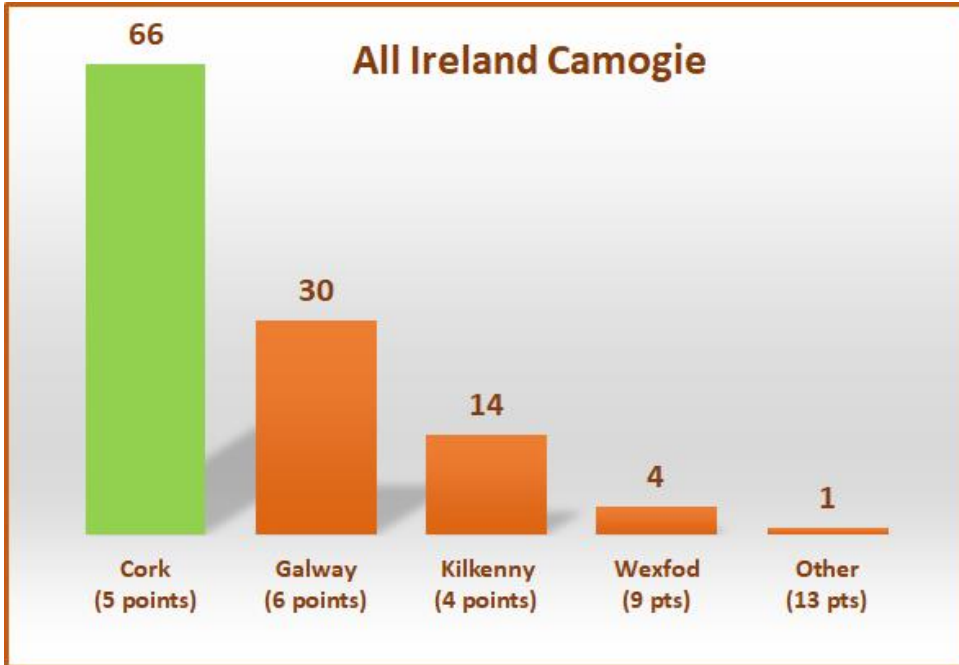

In theory, everyone on this leaderboard could take the top prize as there are 4 points on offer if Cork win the ladies football, and 9 points on offer if Dublin win it.

Best of luck to you all.....

Rank	Name	Total Points	Position Change
1st	Nicky Faherty	57	1
2nd	Rose Denton	56	2
	Sean Fitzsimons	56	2
Tied 4th	Aoibhinn McHale	54	-3
	Owen O'Connell	54	3
	Seán McDonagh	54	3
7th	James McGuinn	52	-5
Tied 8th	Aodhán O'Neill	51	1
	Callum Tierney	51	-4
	Conor O'Reilly	51	1
	Darragh O'Connor	51	1
Tied 12th	James Walshe	50	1
	Patrick Maloney	50	1

KnowYourSport

Results of All Ireland Camogie Final

Final Predictions

