By Jack

I'm staring out my window
Thinking life is such a bore
Covid has us all at home
Getting up is quite a chore

I'm staring out my window
Asking whether this will end
I'm stuck inside my house all day
Without a single friend

I've forgotten what the world was like
Before this great debacle
By day, all right. Insane at night.
I feel like I'm going manicle

I'm staring out my window
Thinking 'bout what left to trek
I think if they do sanity quizzes
I'll be the first they check

I'm staring out my window,

What will the earth be like?
I can't wait 'till I'm free to go
Or at least can ride my Bike

Excellent Jack, do you mind if i publish it on the school website?

No not at all. Please do.
